The life of Menno Simons, an early leader of the Mennonites, found its beginning in 1496 in the Dutch province of Friesland in a small town called Witmarsum.

THIS BOOK IS DEDICATED TO THE STUDENTS, FACULTY, AND STAFF OF BETHANY; FOR THEY WILL MORE FULLY APPRECIATE ITS CONTENTS.

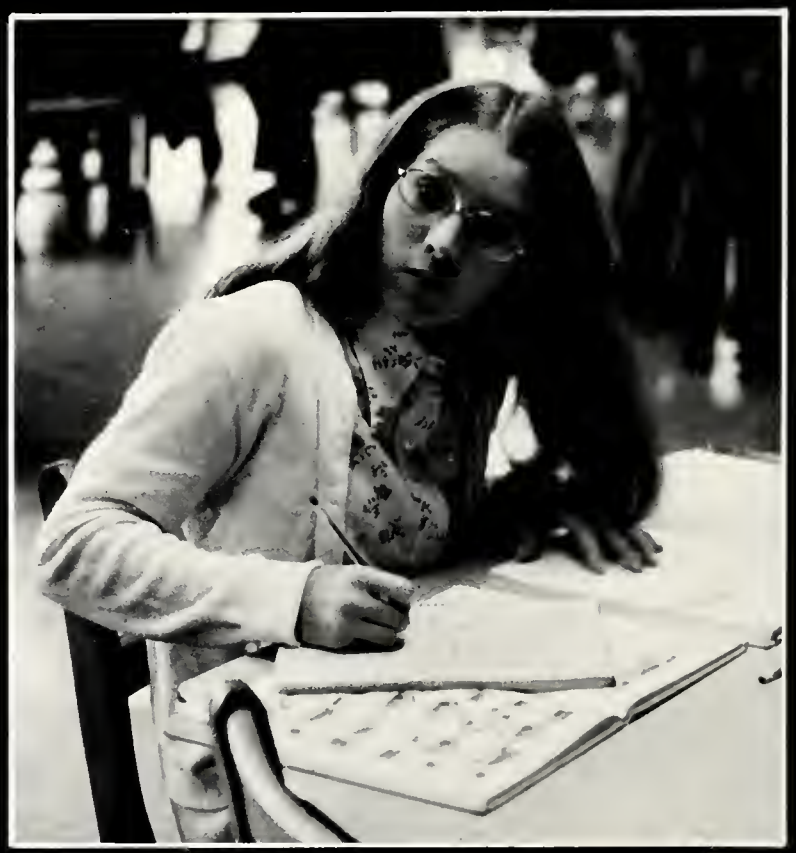
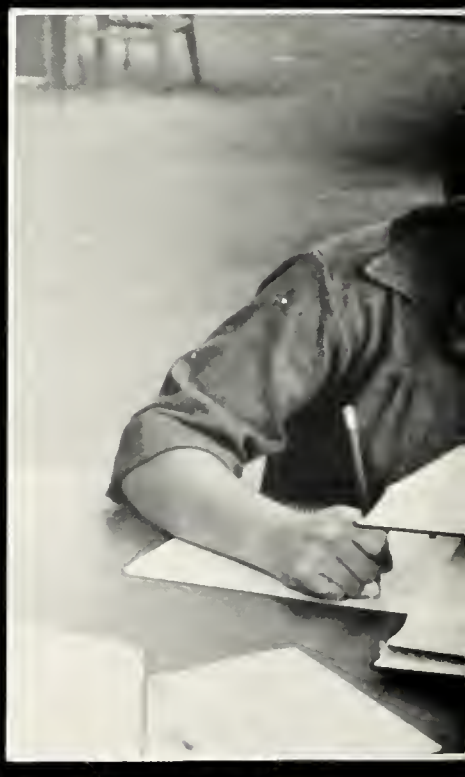
In all things, there is good and bad. Nothing exists which is wholly good, nor wholly bad. All occurrences arise form the eternal mingling of these two forces.

Bethany students are not all Christians, nor are they all non-Christians. This school is here to present the Christian point of view along with a high school education. Its purpose is not to guarantee that every graduate is a Christian.

The administration presents this option of beliefs to the student body. Whether a student accepts this option is entirely the decision of that student.





If everyone at Bethany were a non-Christian, there would be no reason to attend this school.

If everyone were a Christian, contact with non-Christians could be minimal; possibly producing weak Christians with distorted views.

Bethany offers this mingling.

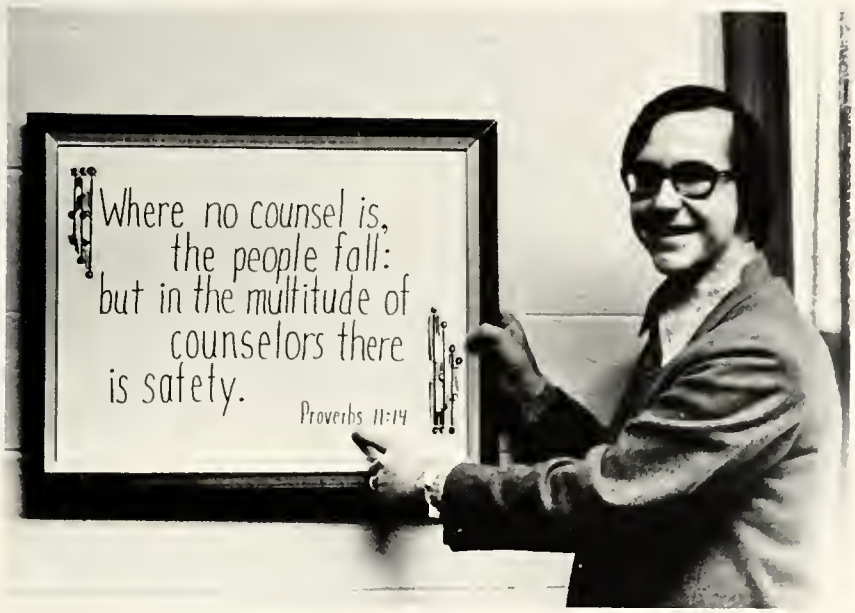
PEOPLE

ADMINISTRATION

Bethany Board: Seated: Carrie Diener, Phyllis Stoltzfus, Steve Dintaman (secretary), Dennis Weaver.
Standing: Herbert Maust (president), Harold Bontreger (treasurer), Glen Horner, Willard Conrad.
Not pictured: Charles Gardner (vice president), Edith Kauffman, Russell Krabill, Roy Yoder.

William D. Hooley: BA, MEd, EdD
Superintendent

Bethany Christian High School places an important emphasis upon helping students in the formation of values, the development of beliefs, and the shaping of attitudes. This emphasis does not need to detract from academic excellence or serious study. The student who is sincerely seeking to grow in Christian discipleship has a group of committed students and faculty who walk with him as he discovers meaning and wholeness in his own life. It is this process of searching, growing, and discovering which makes the BCHS experience different from most high school experiences.



Dan Schrock: BA, MSW;
Guidance Counselor
Psychology

I came to Bethany because I believe that education should be concerned with the development of the "whole" person. Many schools have chosen, or been forced, to "partially" educate persons, failing to deal with those areas that give life real meaning and quality. In spite of some shortcomings, I feel Bethany makes an honest attempt to integrate "knowledge" with "lifestyle," "facts" with "values," "belief" with "being," "social interaction" with "caring," and "competition" with "community."

Levi Miller: BA, MA;
Principal

I responded to a call to come to Bethany Christian High School for the 1973-74 school year. I felt that this is where God wanted me to be at this time in my life. After having been in one system nine years, I felt a need to gain a broader and a somewhat different experience. The call to Bethany has provided this. The board, the faculty, the parents, and the students are basically very supportive of each other. I feel good about being a part of this team and the progress I feel it has made in becoming more unified for the sake of the Kingdom.

FACULTY

Joyce Eby: BA; Algebra, General Math

Elaine Clymer: BS; Home Economics

Ray Gingerich: BA, MDiv, MA; Bible

Everett Thomas: BA; English

Ken Horst: BA; Science

Darrel Hostetler: BA, ThB, MA; Music, Bible

If you ask our teachers why they decided on teaching as a career, they'll tell you; and if you ask them why they decided to teach at Bethany, they'll tell you that, too. Here are some of the general responses we received from our faculty when we asked why they decided to teach:

"I find both self-fulfillment and an opportunity for service to others to a greater degree than in most other careers."
"I felt God's leading."
"The classroom situation is somewhat unpredictable. It is not static like some other jobs."
"The learning experience fascinates me."
"I wanted to spend my time helping others form their ideas and opinions."
"There were a lot of things I wanted to say."
"I enjoy working with young people."

Here are some responses when they were asked why they came to Bethany:

"The education system as a whole in America is in terrible shape. I think there is the opportunity here at Bethany to at least partially redeem it. We are still a long ways from that goal, but I think much closer to integrating education with life than any public school can or could be."
"The job was available."
"It was initially in response to a desperate plea. I stayed because I believe in Bethany and the 'world views' that are being taught."
"I was interested in experimenting with some new ideas, testing my ideas, and trying to help a Christian education experience happen."
"I wanted to serve where I am needed."
"Christian education gives basis to and purpose for life."
"I felt God leading me here."

Here at Bethany, we are fortunate to have the Christian teachers we do. They are people dedicated to their job, to their students. and to God.

We're all individuals,
yet we tend to yield to the influences of pressures
from those of all ages.
We've been influenced by one another,
hopefully that will make the difference in our future.

"When you part from your friend,
you grieve not;
For that which you love most in him may be clearer in his absence, as the mountain to the climber is clearer from the plain."

Some say that our class, which is the Juniors, just might have a small communication problem between the various groups. But, as in the story of "Pandora's Box," pushed back in the corner and slowly emerging is hope.

We came each, from his own little world converging upon Bethany for the first time.

Feeling like a small and insignificant
part of the school,

We wait
We watch
We learn,

Someday . . . someday . . .
someday we shall know how important we really were.

IN MEMORY OF KEITH MAST

At 9:00 a.m., May 20, 1974, Keith Mast, a Junior at the time, died as a result of massive head injuries received the preceding day when his saddle slipped while riding a horse.

No man is an island entire of itself. Every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main. If a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friends or of thine own were. Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind. Therefore, never send to know for whom the bell tolls. It tolls for thee.

–John Donne

BIBLE

We have learned to come into this classroom prepared for conflict. And there are many conflicts occurring within these walls. They are many and just as varied: personal, relational, doctrinal, in assorted colors and sizes. It always begins with the basics. "How come we gotta take Bible?" It moves beyond the basics. I say I'm right. You say you're right. We're both stubborn people. I say the Bible says this. You say the Bible says that. What shall we believe?

Some days we just sleep, or watch the snow fall, or laugh to say, "But this is called RELATING!" Some days we eat watermelon or pretzels and cider, or get up at 4:00 a.m. to listen to a bunch or monks chant. To everything there is a season . . .

Bible is a difficult class. Difficult because it involves all that we believe, and we are very sensitive about that. Some days we stomp all over each other and we leave class wounded, angry, or hurt. We've all experienced that pain. We know how it feels. And we begin to stick up for the guy getting hurt. Perhaps we don't learn a lot. Or perhaps we do learn something–how important our values are, how biblical our values are, or just how much we need each other.

We've learned to come to this room expecting conflict. But we aren't always stumbling in the dark. Once in awhile, I realize that I hurt, because I hurt you. We discover the painful, beautiful experience of reconciliation and a little ray of light shines.

Dear Marsha:

After several years of business arts with you. we have come to the following conclusions:

–Shorthand is an effective method of conserving paper.

–Bookkeeping consumes the paper saved by the application of shorthand.

–Typing then becomes an effective method for relieving penned-up frustration (see above for cause).

Sincerely,
Some former competent students.

ENGLISH

English is . . .

–wading through THE BROTHERS KARAMAZOV
–writing twenty-page short stories
–Moby Dick and crazy Ahab
–wishing you were at Walden
–writing and acting out plays and then seeing yourself on videotape
–Ev's grammar and spelling "dictations"
–trying to use your hands during your Speech final –Zeus, Poseidon, and Hades in mythology class
–"cutting and pasting" like second graders to make your own magazine in Mass Media
–putting on a drama production for the school
–writing an essay for Comp. and then finding out its on display in the hall
–deciding about Holden Caulfield
–struggling with Ransom on Perelandra in Christian lit. class
–BEOWULF, MACBETH, Johnson and Jonson, Coleridge, Eliot, and PYGMALION, all in one semester
–seeing "The Lottery" three times
–teaching Becky and Jackie a few things

MUSIC

Music has a unique place among the many expressions of art. Unlike painting or sculpture, the final product cannot be displayed, but must be appreciated and enjoyed while it is being performed. We cannot display our best work; therefore, we must take a chance on the quality of each performance, and try to increase the chances of a good product by practicing often and well.

This may mean disappointment after some performances, but also means exhilaration after a concert that went well. When we can combine genuine artistic expression with real meaning for the performers and the audience, like the orchestra's concert at Horizon Learning Center, or many of the choir programs, then perhaps music has found its greatest value, and we can appreciate the hours of practice.

SOCIAL STUDIES

For a look into the past and insight into the beginning and growth of our country; for a greater understanding of our government, its functions and the wiles of politicians; for a look at our larger world, its culture and the forces which form it; or for a look into the ordering of life in our society and an introduction to the science of psychology, it's Social Studies.

How do you get this flat tire off?
You have to jack the car up first.
Oh. (tug, tug, pull) It won't come off.
Did you take the lug nuts off?
I don't see any nuts.
They're underneath the hub-cap.
Oh. (bang!) I can't get the nuts loose.
Well, put the car down so the tire doesn't move when you turn the nuts.
I put it up. You put it down.
Okay. (grunt, grunt, sigh) There, now that wasn't so hard. Jack her back up again.
You jack her up.
Okay, okay. Now all you have to do is to take the tire off and put the good one on.
It doesn't fit.
What doesn't fit?
The tire.
You've got it on backwards.
Oh. YeeeOUCH!
Now what's wrong.
I dropped it on my foot.
Let me do it. (grunt, ugh) There, now hand me those nuts. Okay, put it down and tighten them up.
You put it down.
I put it up.
Okay, okay. There, . . .
YeeeOUCH! You put it down on my foot. (moan)
Sorry. Better?
Yeah. Just what I needed, a flat foot.

MATH/SCIENCE

Technically, Science is a process in which observation and study of the surrounding world yields an organized knowledge of relationships among natural phenomena.

But the students see it differently. To them, Science is experimenting, and not knowing why; waiting for a solar eclipse for two weeks, and having an overcast sky when the day arrives; debating the issue of whether the earth revolves around the sun, or vice versa; and discussing the possibility of one large "black hole" being the ultimate destiny of the universe.

Even though all this may not seem clear to everyone, it may very well plant a spark which will later show its worth.

Allen Peachey trained his team hard and long to get them into perfect shape for a long hard season. The Braves, finally ready (?) to face the challenge of other teams and old school records, forged ahead. Despite the fact that they ended with a losing season—ah, it was 1-8—they managed to set five new school records: John Miller did the 440-yard dash in 53.75 seconds; Kevin Graber ran the mile in 4:53.4; Kirby Miller set two new records: he threw the shot 44'9" and the discus 128'3"; and Gene Gingerich not only broke the old pole vault record by jumping 12'6¾", but also his collarbone doing it.

Poor Linda Shetler (alias Pert) was faced with the task of producing a track team from an inexperienced but willing group of girls. Times were hard, for this was the first track team for Pert since her arrival in 1972. Needless to say, there was great rejoicing over their one and only victory. But even though the team had a losing season, in each meet, there was a personal victory for someone.

BASEBALL

By starting with a young team with only three seniors on the entire squad, having our leading hitter out for the season with an injury, and ending the regular season with a record of 0-8, you might begin thinking that the odds were against us as we went into the tourney. Luckily, the team pulled together and won the first two games. But then, the morning before the final game, news was received that Keith Mast, a fellow schoolmate, had died from being thrown from a horse the day before. The team did not break, though, and was able to win the final game against Marion Bennett by a score of 6-5 and bring home the first baseball trophy in the school's history. Members of the team will long remember the team spirit and the feelings of joy we had from winning the championship game in Keith's honor.

SOCCER

The 1974-75 soccer season was often frustrating . . .
knowing that we had perhaps the best team in the conference, but not being able to prove it.
losing three games by only one goal, and one of those in an overtime.
fighting hard, and successfully, against the league champs, only to have an injury ruin the defensive set-up.
losing Ron Zimmerman and Dex Stutzman for most of the season because of soccer injuries.

Despite our 7-5-2 record, we knew we had a good team this year. Dave Schwartzentruber made the first all conference team, and Steve Miller and Merrill Krabill the second. Having the offense finally click, and getting shots into the goal, gave some meaning to the windsprints and summer workouts. Partially due to injury vacancies, the team had five underclassmen in the starting eleven. Their excellent performance promises a good future for the Bethany team.

After weeks of hard practice, Pert had two teams ready and eager to face their challengers. Although both teams seemingly got off to a slow start, the Varsity ended its regular season with a 7-5 record and the B-team ended theirs with a 6-6 record.

At the sectionals, Varsity was defeated in the finals by a tough East Noble team. They defeated West Noble and Fairfield in earlier matches to make them eligible for the final match.

JR.-SR. BANQUET

Two months before–
"You mean last year they had their theme chosen by Christmas?"

One month before–
"How will we ever get those sophomore guys into knickers?" (we didn't)

One week before–
"I have an idea. Let's skip all this fuss and call our theme "The Gym."

Two days before–
"Earl wants to know who ripped off all the globes from the outside lights– oh, you're using them for street lights?"

The night before–
"They think they're having a banquet in here tomorrow night?"

But, sure enough, the day arrives and we're actually ready.

The guests are led into a small town of the mid-20's where they eat their meal off of red-checked tablecloths to the sound of lively ragtime. A short stroll to Ghirardelli's Ice Cream Parlor for a delicious sundae, a real barbershop quartet to entertain us, two hours of "The Learning Tree," and the Banquet is over.

"Barbers" Al Peachey, Ev Thomas, Larion Swartzendruber, Rick Stiffney.

GRADUATION

I walked down
The long, dark, ominous hallway
Wondering what would occur.
I had
Never walked this way before.
The ray of light
Glistening at the other end
Was curious, strange,
More different from anything
I had ever seen before.
For you see,
I had just turned a corner
In the hallway of my life.
What I saw kept me going,
Made me forget the dark chambers
Of now
In expectant hope
Of the light
On the other side
Of the door.

FISH FRY

After weeks of planning, hard work, and last minute preparations, October 4 came bright and shiny—a beautiful day for a fish fry. The people came to make it all worthwhile and the fish did too; that is until one of the cookers blew a fuse, which had Don Kaufman up in the air for a while.

Now, after four years of hard work and a lot more planning, we were ready for our trip . . .

. . . to Canada. What happened?

Monday, October 21, 1974 at about 6:30 p.m., we departed from Goshen on two buses and headed north.

Tuesday, we arrived in Ottawa, saw Parliament, and had free time to shop or visit places of interest. In the evening, we heard Bruce Cockburn, a Canadian folk singer. Then, back to our motel and lights out (?).

Wednesday, we visited the Mint, War Museum, and the Governor General's house (we even got to see his dog). We spent the afternoon in Quebec (pig knuckles for lunch), and then went to the Museum of Man. Back to the motel and lights out (?).

Thursday, we traveled to Toronto, visited Pioneer Village and another museum; went to another motel and lights out (?).

Friday, it was the Science Center, Casa Loma, and more free time. In the evening, we watched a hockey game at the Maple Leaf Garden.

A little bushed, Wilmer Hollinger and Darrel Hostetler left Canada with a bunch of tired and weary kids (not to mention the sore feet) and headed for home.

INTERTERM

Rex Bontrager

Gerald Miller

Inter-term was scheduled between semesters, January 6-17. The purpose was to provide innovative educational experiences both to students and faculty, and to provide for a variety of experiences that cannot be obtained in regular or traditional classroom settings.

A list of opportunities for study was prepared from suggestions made by faculty and students. This year, students were able to choose from areas of study including agri-industry, knitting, macrame, furniture refinishing, foreign foods, building construction, independent reading, aide work, an inter-school exchange, photography, service living, ceramics, recreation, and television, radio, and newspaper.

Everyone came back to school with different and varied feelings about their two weeks. There were difficulties in getting the program started since this was the first year; but for the most part everything turned out successfully and the faculty, as well as students had a BLAST!

Whether it be deciding to build a student lounge in the face of a monstrous school debt, trying to figure out how Bethany acquired a pair of glass backboards, or helping with the nominations for next year's exchange student, the Student Council tries to serve diverse student interest while being sensitive to the needs and expectations of the diverse Christian community that surrounds it.

ICYE

All Bethany Students! I thank you for giving me the opportunity to come to this school. So that you can understand a little of what it is like to be an exchange student, I will tell you some of the steps of becoming one.

I first heard about I.C.Y.E. from my pastor. He told me a lot of good things that had happened to students who had returned from abroad. So I discussed it with my parents and later on decided to participate. Because there are many people who want to go abroad, I was required to take tests. After the test, I decided to go to America. A Korean I.C.Y.E. committee selected an American family for me to live with.

In Korea, the exchange program is entirely individual. Exchanges coming from Bethany are very fortunate to have a whole school backing them. I would like to recommend this program to everyone who is interested in new experiences and knowledge of life in another country.

I REALLY ENJOY MY SCHOOL LIFE! I thank everyone at Bethany for making me feel welcome and teaching me a great deal.

Jee Yoon Chung

It is nearly impossible to describe my experiences and what I learned at Bethany from the moment I first stood among the 240 people populating Bethany, who I didn't know at all. But at Bethany, I found a warm atmosphere of friendliness that made it very easy to find friends. And all, good and less good, that I experienced in the World of Bethany; all the alternatives I saw in a different school system, different people and personalities, in another environment; everything taught me something about other people, another nation, another lifestyle, and also something about myself and my German home. I wouldn't want to have missed this experience, and want to thank you for giving me the possibility of staying at Bethany. I hope that I have been able to share some of my experiences with you to realize something of the exchange. Even though there is always something to criticize with everything, I must tell you that you can be proud of having the opportunity of attending a school like Bethany with its many possibilities. Thanks again . . . and take it easy.

Being on the WITMARSUM staff is not an ego trip. Instead, it is an attempt to create a memory of one year at Bethany. It means hard work, long hours, frustration, and hassles. There are deadlines to meet, bills to collect, pictures to take, and still the pressure to remain creative.

Some day when we are seventy years old with a grandchild on our knee, we'll say, "Those were the good ol' days." But until then, we wonder about it.

Exerpts from stimulating conversations in the "Reflector" office:

- - - "Linda, can't you type any faster? I'm so hungry, I'm chewing on this pencil."

- - - "Oh, shift! There's a mistake on the third page." "That's OK. Nobody's going to read it anyway."

- - - Meek knock on the door. "Ah . . . I don't have my article done." Silence. "Gretchen, do we have another picture to put on the second page?"

- - - "Who else has been chewing on my pencil?"

Long hours - - - sometimes filled with frustration, sometimes with fun.

The "Reflector": a valuable asset to the Bethany community reflecting its moods, concerns, and issues.

"This is the beginning of a new day. God has given you this day to use as you will. You can waste it — or use it for good, but what you do today is important, because you are exchanging a day of your life for it! When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in its place something that you have traded for it. May it be gain, and not loss; good, and not evil; success, and not failure; in order that you shall not regret the price you have paid for it."

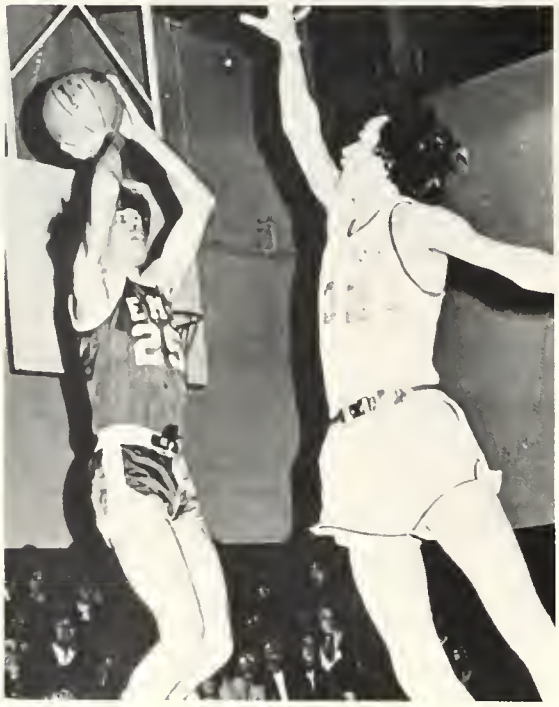
Eastern Mennonite College: We can be very flexible.



EMC, a fully-accredited Christian college, offers four-year degree programs in 19 different fields as well as a number of one- and two-year options, such as:

- a four-year program in business administration and/or accounting and a two-year medical-secretarial or general-secretarial sequence.
- a four-year Bible major and one or two years of concentrated Bible study.
- a four-year program in elementary or secondary education and a two-year para-professional program for "teacher aids."
- a two-year diploma program in general studies.

Explore the possibilities with us.
